OCIA Jesus reflected on the prophecy of Isaiah which read ... "He has anointed me to preach good news to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim release of captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed." (Luke 4:18-19). Catholic social teaching is based on these teachings of care for the poor and vulnerable. This is truly following Christ.

From Hosanna to the Cross: Choosing Christ for a Lifetime

Palm Sunday stands at the threshold. It is not just a remembrance it is an invitation. We begin with palms raised high, echoing the cries of the crowd: "Hosanna!" Yet within days, those same voices will turn to "Crucify Him." The Church places us in this tension deliberately, because Palm Sunday is not only about what happened then it is about what is happening within us now.

There is something unsettling about how quickly the crowd changes. But if we are honest, we recognize ourselves in that same movement. We can praise Christ when life is good, when prayers seem answered, when faith feels easy. Yet when suffering comes, when God's will challenges our own, when following Christ demands sacrifice we hesitate, we resist, we turn away. Palm Sunday asks us a hard question: Are we fair-weather disciples, or are we willing to follow Jesus all the way to the Cross?

Because that is what is coming.

Holy Week is not symbolic. It is deeply real. We are about to walk with Christ through betrayal, suffering, abandonment, and death. And the Church does not allow us to stand at a distance as observers. We are drawn in as participants. The Passion is not just something Jesus endured it is something He endured for us, and because of us.

So how do we prepare?

First, we must allow the reality of sin to pierce our hearts. Not in a way that leads to despair, but in a way that awakens us. Christ did not go to the Cross for an abstract humanity He went for you, for me, for every moment we chose ourselves over God. Palm Sunday calls us to examine our lives honestly. Where have we grown comfortable with sin? Where have we compromised? Where have we shouted "Hosanna" with our lips but denied Him with our actions?

Second, we must move beyond temporary change. Lent can sometimes become a season of short-lived effort small sacrifices that fade as Easter approaches. But the Cross demands more. It calls for transformation that lasts. Not just giving something up, but giving ourselves over. Not just avoiding sin, but pursuing holiness. Not just feeling sorry, but becoming different.

This is the moment to decide: What in my life needs to change permanently? Is it a habit, a relationship, a pattern of thinking, a failure to forgive, a neglect of prayer? Christ is not asking for a gesture He is asking for your heart.

Finally, we must fix our eyes on love. Everything that unfolds in the coming days is rooted in one truth: Jesus loves you completely. The Cross is not an accident. It is not defeat. It is the fullest expression of divine love. And that love is meant to transform us. When we truly encounter it, we cannot remain the same.

Palm Sunday begins with celebration, but it leads us into sacrifice. It reminds us that following Christ is not about moments of enthusiasm, but a lifetime of fidelity. The question is not whether we will wave palms today the question is whether we will stand with Him on Good Friday.

Now is the time to prepare. Not casually, not halfway but with a firm decision to walk with the Lord, wherever He leads.

Blessings,

Deacon Mike

CAN YOU SPARE A MOMENT TO BLESS FELLOW PARISHIONERS THIS EASTER?

Saint John parishioners have been so thoughtful of the Ministry of Care event of delivering Christmas cards to our shut-ins, that we decided to have an Easter card event.

We will have a basket and cards set up in the Narthex. We will have a supply of cards for your use until they are gone or you can supply your own. The area will be set up on March 14th and cards will need to be turned in by April 5th. The MOC will deliver them the week after Easter.

All cards will be greatly appreciated by the shut-ins as the cards at Christmas are. They are always surprised on how many parishioners remember them and enjoy reading them over and over. Thank you for your thoughtfulness. Have a Blessed and Happy Easter.

Greensburg Chapter of Magnificat – A Ministry to Catholic Women will hold a breakfast April 25th, 9 am-12pm, Rizzo's, Crabtree.

Our speaker is Janice Charbonnet. In 1996, she answered a call from the Lord to leave her career and serve as a missionary with NET Ministries. Traveling across the US, she spent a year sharing the Gospel with teenagers. Now rooted in New Orleans, Janice serves as leader of the Women's Ministry Team for the Catholic Charismatic Renewal of New Orleans. As a mother of five, she frequently draws from joys and challenges of family life when speaking. She loves proclaiming the freedom and healing available through the power of the Holy Spirit and inspiring women to live fully alive in Christ. Register at MagnificatGreensburg.com or call Brenda Concannon at 724-836-2094.

The next Holy Family Rosary Society Meeting is Monday, April 6th.
